EBR Schools To Host Inaugural Clerical Staff Conference

BATON ROUGE, La. — The East Baton Rouge Parish School System will host a professional development training day specifically for clerks, the team of employees who work behind the scenes to keep our day-to-day operations moving.

The inaugural EBR Clerical Conference will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 9, at Capitol High School, 5100 Greenwell Springs Road.

Hosted by the district's Office of Enrollment Management and Student Records, the professional development conference is designed specifically for clerical employees. It will provide practical training, opportunities to share best practices and time to connect with colleagues from across the district.

"We wanted to create an opportunity for our clerical staff to come together, learn from one another and receive a full day of professional development focused on the work they do every day," said Brandon Fontenot, of the Office of Enrollment Management. "They are an important part of our schools and our district, and we want to make sure they have opportunities to learn, grow and be successful."

The conference is built around four key themes:

Learn: Gain valuable insights and practical tools to support your role.

Connect: Build relationships across the district and share best practices.

Grow: Strengthen your skills and confidence to make a difference.

Celebrate: Recognize the important role clerical employees play in the success of EBR Schools.

COMMUNICATIONS & PUBLIC RELATIONS

Approximately 150 clerical employees from schools and district sites are expected to attend.

The conference is part of EBR Schools' broader commitment to employee development and providing staff members with the knowledge, resources and professional support needed to serve students, families and schools effectively.
